How AMM is Paid for Providing Financial Services

Payment for services depends upon the type of service provided by AMM.

Acting as a broker for deposit products, securities, or managed investment schemes:

For some products we are paid directly by the product provider. This can be anywhere between 0.00 percent per annum and 0.20 percent per annum and is typically 0.10% percent per annum for deposit products and between 0.05 percent per annum to 0.10% percent per annum for managed funds.

For some products we are NOT paid by the product provider. For these products:

- AMM will charge a quarterly fee of between 0.00 percent per annum 0.20 percent per annum for deposit products and between 0.00 percent per annum 0.10 percent per annum for managed funds made available through AMM's website.
- The amount of the fee will be notified to prior to being charged and will be deducted from the client's hub account opened with AMM.
- Should the amount of fees change, AMM will give 30 days' prior written notice of any increase to the fees.

AMM may charge a fee on managed investment schemes in the range of 0.00%pa to 0.20%pa, typically 0.08%pa inclusive of GST. The fee will be charge based on the daily number of units held during a period, and the close of business unit price for the period. An example of the calculation is shown below:

A client invests $50,000 in a fund on 20 January. The investment purchases 48,971.6 units at a unit price of 1.021 (48,971.6 units x $1.021 per unit = $50,000)

At the end of the quarter on 31 March the unit price of the fund is 1.022. In line with the distributions paid by the fund, AMM will charge the client $7.68 being:

$$48,971.6 \text{ units} \times $1.022/\text{unit} \times 70 \text{ days} / 365 \text{ days} \times 0.08\% \text{ fee} = $7.68$$

Primary market fixed interest securities:

Issuers of primary market fixed interest securities will pay AMM brokerage directly. This does not affect the yield or price quoted to you. Details of any commissions are available from your adviser. These fees are typically in the range of 0.05% to 1.00%.
